Michael Yeadon: 'What is the Pharmaceutical Industry Really Manufacturing?'

MAY 3, 2021 BY NEWS WIRE 12 COMMENTS

"An Urgent Warning to the World" | Perspectives on the Pandemic Episode 16

Thus far, two of the experimental vaccines, AstraZeneca and Johnson & Johnson, have been paused or halted following reports of clotting, stroke, anaphylaxis, Bell's Palsy, and a host of other adverse neurologic or auto-immune disorders – and even deaths.

Has the general population been enrolled in a vast and unimaginably dangerous phase-three clinical trial without legal informed consent? And all for a disease that will never affect the overwhelming majority of people, and with a 99.7% survival rate?

Dr. Mike Yeadon, formerly a Vice President and Chief Science Officer at Pfizer, believes a large scale experiment is now well under way, which may have terrible implications for the global population.

Watch this highly informative interview conducted by John Kirby:

Allocation: Randomized
